Bus Bike Racks

Bike racks are now available on all MiWay buses. Each rack can hold two conventional bicycles with wheels that are at least 16 inches (41 cm) in diameter. No additional fare is required to use them. Customers are responsible for loading and unloading their bicycles. Bicycles can be transported in the bus when the racks are full or inoperable, and when there is space in the bus and other customers are not inconvenienced. For safety, bicycles must not block the aisles.

MAKE YOUR TRIP A SMOOTH ONE

- Before the bus arrives, remove any loose items on your bike, such as a water bottle or bike lock.
- As the bus arrives at your stop, stand back from the curb and wave to the driver, signaling that you'd like to use the bus bike rack.
- Before you move in front of the bus, wait for the driver to acknowledge that he/she sees you.
- Properly secure your bike in the bus bike rack. It's your responsibility. And don't lock or chain your bike to the rack.
- During your trip, keep sight of your bike.
- When exiting the bus, please do so from the front door and let the driver know you want to unload your bike from the rack.
- After unloading your bike, for your safety, move to the curbside.

LOADING A BIKE

Support your bike with one hand, then squeeze the rack's handle and pull the rack down to its locked, loading position.

Lift your bike onto the rack, placing the front and back tires into the correct wheel slots closest to the bus. The front wheel slot is labeled.

Turn the handle by the front wheel slot until your bike's front wheel is secured in the wheel slot.

UNLOADING A BIKE

Turn the handle on the rack to release your bike's front wheel from its secure position.

Lift your bike from the rack.

If the rack is empty, fold it back up by squeezing the rack's handle and lifting the rack up into its upright position.
