

Teen First Responder

Teen First Responder has been specially designed for teenagers who would like to learn life-saving skills for personal or workplace related reasons. This is an excellent course for those who participate in or referee sports, want to be a camp counsellor or life-guard or want to be prepared for future job placements. The course will cover CPR for adults, infants and children, an introduction to automated external defibrillation, choking, emergency scene management, bleeding, shock, unconsciousness, fainting and other first aid situations that are likely to be encountered by teens.

Fun and informative, this course will provide excellent preparation for a teen encountering an emergency situation. The Emergency First Aid Level "B" CPR certificate is available for those who require it.
