Your guide to enjoying Erindale Park and Culham Trail

happy trails

nature is frail, stay on the trail

Erindale Park and the Culham Trail provide an excellent opportunity for visitors to experience and discover nature. Scenic vistas and an abundance of plant and wildlife make this an inviting destination for hikers, joggers, cross country skiers, dog walkers, and, of course, cyclists.

By following a few common sense guidelines, we can all enjoy this natural oasis in the heart of the city and ensure that it's delicate ecosystem will remain undisturbed. Your actions will be appreciated and will set an example for other trail and park users. Have fun!

- Share the Trails! Our trails are multi-use and require cooperation among users
- Be Courteous. A little goes a long way!
- Travel on the right-hand side of the trail and pass on the left
- Yield to slower moving trail users
- Signal that you are passing use a bell, horn or voice to let others know
- Stay off unmarked or closed trails to avoid damaging fragile natural habitats and disturbing animals

Random mountain bike trails and BMX installations are a continual cause of environmental damage. Creating new trails, cycling through vegetation, and building ramps and jumps result in soil erosion and a continuing loss of native vegetation and wildlife habitat. Please remain on the designated trails and help us to minimize these preventable stresses to an already delicate ecosystem.

If you need further information, have any further concerns or wish to report problems or hazards on the trail please contact the City of Mississauga, Recreation and Parks Department at 905-896-5384.
